By Searching My Journey Through Doubt Into Faith

Robert K. Burkinshaw

By Searching My Journey Through Doubt Into Faith:

By Searching Isobel Kuhn, 2009-06-01 Isobel Miller gave up God for worldly pursuits. But as graduation approached and her engagement was broken, she questioned that decision. If You will prove to me that You are and if You will give me peace, I will give You my whole life. God heard Isobel's prayers and responded. He reached out to her, ending years of searching and building her up for decades of fruitful missionary service with her husband John Kuhn in China. By Searching Isobel Kuhn, 1986

The Key to the Missionary Problem (Annotated): A Devotional Primer on Missions Andrew Murray, Andrew Murray wrote this book as a response to reading the conference report from the Ecumenical Missionary Conference in New York in 1900. Murray's burden was that the missionary task begin first and foremost with individual believers accepting their responsibility for the Great Commission. In this book, he seeks to stir the hearts of believers by showing the great need for the Gospel around the world as well as the lack of effort from the Church in his day. Murray writes with a devotional heart and a passion for Gospel advance to the ends of the earth. This book is great for those who are looking for a devotional on the topic of missions. You will be challenged to look beyond yourself and see the need for the Gospel around the world. You may even decide to go.

Songs of the Lisu Hills Aminta Arrington, 2020-01-07 The story of how the Lisu of southwest China were evangelized one hundred years ago by the China Inland Mission is a familiar one in mission circles. The subsequent history of the Lisu church, however, is much less well known. Songs of the Lisu Hills brings this history up to date, recounting the unlikely story of how the Lisu maintained their faith through twenty-two years of government persecution and illuminating how Lisu Christians transformed the text-based religion brought by the missionaries into a faith centered around an embodied set of Christian practices. Based on ethnographic fieldwork as well as archival research, this volume documents the development of Lisu Christianity both through larger social forces and through the stories of individual believers. It explores how the Lisu, most of whom remain subsistence farmers, have oriented their faith less around cognitive notions of belief and more around participation in a rhythm of shared Christian practices such as line dancing, attending church, and festivals, evangelizing, working in one another's fields, and singing translated Western hymns. These embodied practices demonstrate how Christianity developed in the mountainous margins of the world's largest atheist state. A much-needed expansion of the Lisu story into a complex study of the evolution of a world Christian community, this book will appeal to scholars working at the intersections of World Christianity, anthropology of religion, ethnography, Chinese Christianity, and mission studies.

Pilgrims in Lotus Land Robert K. Burkinshaw, 1995-05-05 Burkinshaw traces the growth of conservative Protestantism in British Columbia from its clashes with liberal Protestants in the early twentieth century through the post-World War II years when a bewildering variety of smaller groups, including Baptist and Pentecostal denominations as well as Mennonite Reformed and Evangelical Free churches, became important. In the 1970s, when the majority of worshipping Protestants belonged to evangelical groups, he examines the factors that made evangelicalism more adaptable to changes in the geographic ethnic and social distribution of the province's population and argues that while the evangelical movement in BC was influenced by American fundamentalism it was not simply an extension of the American campaign. He also examines the impact of evangelicals on provincial politics, most particularly their role in the rise of the Social Credit Party. Burkinshaw provides a wealth of new information on the phenomenon of twentieth century evangelicalism and challenges us to rethink the nature of religious conservatism.

Forget Not His Blessings Daisy Hepburn, Lou Ann Smith, 1993. These warm, friendly, encouraging reflections on Psalm 103 invite readers to implement promises from God's Word to teach the next generation to leave a spiritual legacy for the future. A motivational and inspiring book written by a woman who has touched thousands as a speaker and an author.

A New Christianity for a New World John Shelby Spong, 2009-10-13. In his book Why Christianity Must Change or Die, Spong described the toxins that are poisoning the Church. Now in A New Christianity for a New World, he offers the antidote, calling Christians everywhere into a radical reformation for a new age. A New Christianity for a New World is based on Spong's William Belden Noble Lectures at Harvard. Spong explains why traditional understandings of God, Christ, the Church, and its rule and dogmas are wrong and dangerous. He focuses on spelling out his vision of God, Jesus, and the church as a community of love, equality, and truth. Proposing a Christianity premised upon justice, love, and the rise of a new humanity, Bishop Spong has created the ultimate legacy of his struggle to discover and promote a Christianity that makes sense today. John Shelby Spong was the Episcopal Bishop of Newark before his retirement in 2000. As a visiting lecturer at Harvard and at universities and churches throughout North America and the English speaking world, he is one of the leading spokespersons for liberal Christianity. His books include Rescuing the Bible from Fundamentalism, Resurrection: Myth or Reality, Why Christianity Must Change or Die, and his recent autobiography Here I Stand. In this brave and important book, Bishop Spong continues his life-long quest for a living faith and church worthy of the Christ in whom we can find God in our time. His call for a new reformation is honest, deep, provocative, and needed. One hopes there are those with ears to hear. Matthew Fox, author of Original Blessings and One River, Many Wells.
