Business Survey Methods:

Designing and Conducting Business Surveys Ger Snijkers, Gustav Haraldsen, Jacqui Jones, Diane Willimack, 2013-08-05
Designing and Conducting Business Surveys provides a coherent overview of the business survey process from start to finish. It uniquely integrates an understanding of how businesses operate a total survey error approach to data quality that focuses specifically on business surveys and sound project management principles. The book brings together what is currently known about planning, designing and conducting business surveys with producing and disseminating statistics or other research results from the collected data. This knowledge draws upon a variety of disciplines such as survey methodology, organizational sciences, sociology, psychology and statistical methods. The contents of the book formulate a comprehensive guide to scholarly material previously dispersed among books, journal articles and conference papers. This book provides guidelines that will help the reader make educated trade off decisions that minimize survey errors, costs and response burden while being attentive to survey data quality. Major topics include: Determining the survey content considering user needs, the business context and total survey quality; Planning the survey as a project; Sampling frames, procedures and methods; Questionnaire design and testing for self-administered, paper, web and mixed mode surveys; Survey communication design to obtain responses and facilitate the business response process; Conducting and managing the survey using paradata and project management tools; Data processing including capture, editing and imputation and dissemination of statistical outputs. Designing and Conducting Business Surveys is an indispensable resource for anyone involved in designing and/or conducting business or organizational surveys at statistical institutes, central banks, survey organizations etc. producing statistics or other research results from business surveys at universities, research organizations etc. or using data produced from business surveys. The book also lays a foundation for new areas of research in business surveys. Business Survey Methods Brenda G. Cox, David A. Binder, B. Nanjamma Chinnappa, Anders Christianson, Michael J. Colledge, Phillip S. Kott, 2011-09-20. Consists of invited papers from internationally recognized researchers chosen for their quality as well as their overall unity. Describes current methods along with innovative research and presents new technologies for solving problems unique to establishment surveys. Stages of the survey process are addressed in the first five parts with cross-cutting topics in the last section. The Unit Problem and Other Current Topics in Business Survey Methodology Mojca Bavdaz, Boris Lorenc, Paul A. Smith, 2018-11-07. This volume brings together a selection of papers presented at the 2017 European Establishment Statistics Workshop which have been revised and expanded here. Several contributions will serve to deepen the reader's understanding of the unit problem in business statistics while further chapters showcase recent advances in business survey methodology and practice in areas such as linking and data integration, sampling and estimation, data collection from businesses, measurement and mitigation of response burden in business surveys among others. Written by leading experts in business statistics, the volume offers detailed and up-to-date findings to survey methodologists and practitioners working with business statistics It will also be useful for readers in official statistics academia and the private sector Business Surveys in Ten Years Time Jacob Ryten,1995 Statistical Methods Used in the Business Surveys of Statistics Sweden (notes from a Visit to Statistics Sweden - November 1989) Mike A.
