Rare-Earth-Doped Fiber Lasers and Amplifiers, Revised and Expanded Michel J.F. Digonnet, 2001-05-31 A discussion of the theories operating characteristics and current technology of main fiber laser and amplifier devices based on rare earth doped silica and fluorozirconate fibers It describes the principles designs and properties of the erbium doped fiber amplifier and its role as the cornerstone component in optical communication systems This second edition contains new and revised material reflecting major developments in academia and industry Nature & Science on the Pacific Coast ,1915

Near-Earth Laser Communications Hamid Hemmati, 2018-10-03 Invented more than a hundred years ago by Alexander Graham Bell the technology of free space optical communications or lasercom has finally reached the level of maturity required to meet a growing demand for operational multi giga bit per second data rate systems communicating to and from aircrafts and satellites Putting the emphasis on near earth links including air LEO MEO and GEO orbits Near Earth Laser Communications presents a summary of important free space laser communication subsystem challenges and discusses potential ways to overcome them This comprehensive reference provides up to date information on component and subsystem technologies fundamental limitations and approaches to reach those limits It covers basic concepts and state of the art technologies emphasizing device technology implementation techniques and system trades The authors discuss hardware technologies and their applications and also explore ongoing research activities and those planned for the near future The analytical aspects of laser communication have been covered to a great extent in several books However a detailed approach to system design and development including trades on subsystem choices and implications of the hardware selection for satellite and aircraft telecommunications is missing Highlighting key design variations and critical differences between them this book distills decades worth of experience into a practical resource on hardware technologies Rare Earth Doped Fiber Lasers and Amplifiers Michel J. F. Digonnet, 1993 This text examines the current technology of rare earth doped fibres the laser sources and amplifiers made with these fibres and fibre communication systems incorporating erbium doped fibre amplifiers The book covers fibre fabrication techniques basic spectroscopy and optical properties of rare earth in glasses and analytical models of fibre lasers and amplifiers describes the main passive fibre components used in the fabrication of more elaborate fibre laser devices and systems discusses the properties of Nd doped and Er doped fibre lasers operated as continuous wave Q switched and mode locked sources reviews the tunability and single frequency operation of fibre laser sources as well as broadband fibre sources includes an extensive review of fibre lasers based on rare earth doped fluoride fibres and treats the main fibre based systems using erbium doped fibre amplifiers that have been demonstrated including long haul experimental communication systems and local area networks for TV and computers
