Deconstructing Ireland Identity Theory Culture:

Deconstructing Ireland Colin Graham, 2001 Colin Graham examines the course by which the history of modernity and colonialism has constructed an idea of Ireland produced more often as a citation than an actuality He intervenes with authority and originality in controversial area where cultural theory and analysis run alongside the daily challenge of political events The Situated Politics of Belonging Nira Yuval-Davis, Kalpana Kannabiran, Ulrike Vieten, 2006-06-27 This collection of essays examines the racialized and gendered effects of contemporary politics of belonging issues which lie at the heart of contemporary political and social lives It encompasses critical questions of identity and citizenship inclusion and exclusion emotional attachments violent conflicts and local global relationships The range geographically thematically and theoretically covered by the chapters reflects current concerns in the world today A timely contribution to the ongoing debates in the field it will be a valuable companion to scholars working in the areas of multiculturalism globalisation and culture race and ethnic studies gender studies and studies of post partition societies

Deconstructing Ireland Colin Graham, 2001 Using a Derridean deconstruction approach this book examines the course by which the history of modernity and colonialism has constructed an idea of Ireland produced more often as a citation than an actuality The ends of Ireland Conor Carville, 2024-06-04 The Ends of Ireland considers the work of a key group of critics emerging from Ireland through the 1980s and 1990s Seamus Deane Luke Gibbons David Lloyd W J McCormack Gerardine Meaney and Emer Nolan As the main representatives of the turn to theory in Irish Studies these critics have examined Irish culture in the light of ideas taken from psychoanalysis feminism Marxism and postcolonialism In a series of incisive yet accessible chapters Carville analyses the way in which these often provocative ideas have been put to work in the Irish context transforming our understanding of writers like Joyce and Beckett as well as informing broader debates around nationalism modernization memory and historical revisionism Essential reading for anyone concerned with Irish Studies and its relationship with theory the issues raised by The Ends of Ireland set a new agenda for Irish Studies in the coming times Theory on the Edge N. Giffney, M. Shildrick, 2013-06-13 Theory on the Edge brings together some of the foremost specialists working at the interdisciplinary interface between Irish Studies feminist theory queer theory and gender and sexuality studies in order to trace the contemporary development of feminist thinking and activism in Ireland

The Palgrave Handbook of Contemporary Irish Theatre and Performance Eamonn Jordan, Eric Weitz, 2018-09-18 This Handbook offers a multiform sweep of theoretical historical practical and personal glimpses into a landscape roughly characterised as contemporary Irish theatre and performance Bringing together a spectrum of voices and sensibilities in each of its four sections Histories Close ups Interfaces and Reflections it casts its gaze back across the past sixty years or so to recall analyse and assess the recent legacy of theatre and performance on this island While offering information overviews and reflections of current thought across its chapters this book will serve most handily as food for thought and a springboard for curiosity Offering something different in its mix of themes and perspectives so that previously unexamined surfaces might come to light individually and in conjunction with other essays it is a wide ranging and indispensable resource in Irish theatre studies Postcolonial and Gender Perspectives in Irish Studies Marisol Morales Ladrón,2007 This book represents an attempt to tackle questions related to fragmented and often conflicting ideologies within Irish studies Although a collective outcome with contributions in English and Spanish its unifying concern has been the appliance of postcolonial and gender perspectives to the analysis of Irish literature prose drama and verse and cinema as well as to the aesthetic production of both the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland Along the volume while some authors have chosen to delve into the broad theoretical debate concerning the position of Irish studies within postcolonial and feminist theories others offer detailed examinations of specific literary pieces and authors that fit in this panorama All in all the chapters are wide and diverse enough to trace a spatial and temporal map of the evolution of these paradigms within contemporary Irish studies North and South of the border Bloody Living Rhona Trench,2010 The concepts of Ireland and Irishness are in constant flux in the wake of an ever increasing reappraisal of the notion of cultural and national specificity in a world assailed from all angles by the forces of globalisation and uniformity Reimagining Ireland interrogates Ireland s past and present and suggests possibilities for the future by looking at Ireland s literature culture and history and subjecting them to the most up to date critical appraisals associated with sociology literary theory historiography political science and theology Sub-versions Ciaran Ross,2010 From Swift s repulsive shit flinging Yahoos to Beckett s dying but never quite dead moribunds Irish literature has long been perceived as being synonymous with subversion and all forms of subversiveness But what constitutes a subversive text or a subversive writer in twenty first century Ireland The essays in this volume set out to redefine and rethink the subversive potential of modern Irish literature Crossing three central genres one common denominator running through these essays whether dealing with canonical writers like Yeats Beckett and Flann O Brien or lesser known contemporary writers like Sebastian Barry or Robert McLiam Wilson is the continual questioning of Irish identity Irishness going from its colonial paradigm and stereotype of the subaltern in MacGill to its uneasy implications for gender representation in the contemporary novel and the contemporary drama A subsidiary theme inextricably linked to the identity problematic is that of exile and its radical heritage for all Irish writing irrespective of its different genres Sub Versions offers a cross cultural and trans national response to the expanding interest in Irish and postcolonial studies by bringing together specialists from different national cultures and scholarly contexts Ireland Britain France and Central Europe The order of the essays is by genre This study is aimed both at the general literary reader and anyone particularly interested in Irish Studies Writing Irishness in Nineteenth-century British Culture Neil McCaw,2004 The representation of the Irish in English canonical fictions was to have been the subject of this monograph The editor realised the enormity of the task and limited the present volume to an overview of the Irish Irish authors and Ireland in English literature Irish Postmodernisms and Popular Culture Wanda

Balzano, Anne Mulhall, Moynagh Sullivan, 2007-05-16 This groundbreaking collection reframes how popular culture in Ireland and Ireland in popular culture can be understood The essays examine in unique ways local and global Irishness focusing on current versions of traditional culture and new modes of representation how issues such as gender sexuality and race shape contemporary postmodernism in Ireland From Fanfic to Orange Parades from Boybands to the Blessed Virgin Mary from Celebrity Tourism to the Gaelic Athletic Association the essays address new territories Memory, Narrative, Identity Nicola King, 2000 This book explores the complex relationships that exist between memory nostalgia writing and identity

Approaching Cultures Through English, 2007 Moving Worlds, 2003 Narratives for a New Belonging Roger Bromley, 2000 Cultural fictions texts written from the perspective of the edge are the focus of this exciting and enlightening book The author examines the formations of narratives of identity in contemporary borderline fictions and films The work of migrant and marginalised groups located at the boundaries of nations cultures classes ethnicities sexualities and genders is explored through an intricate weaving of theory with textual analysis Organised around the themes of memory tradition and belonging the book proposes the space of migrant writing an emerging third space as one that challenges fixed assumptions about identity The cross cultural range including texts from British Caribbean Chinese American Indo Caribbean Canadian Cuban and Indian writers the original discussion of authors such as Maxine Hong Kingston Gloria Anzaldua Amy Tan Gish Jen Hanif Kureishi and Chang rae Lee and engagement with the work of theorists including Bakhtin Freud Lyotard de Certeau Deleuze and Guattari produces a significant contribution to the broadening definitions of ethnicity and the post colonial Works explored include Jasmine Borderlands The Joy Luck Club The Wedding Banquet Dreaming in Cuban My Year of Meat Buddha of Suburbia and East is East These contemporary texts and films will make this book accessible to a broad range of readers Yeats Richard J. Finneran, 2003-10-28 The most recent volume of this distinguished annual The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2009 The Edinburgh Companion to Contemporary Scottish Literature Berthold Schoene-Harwood, 2007 This title examines the ways in which the cultural and political role of Scottish writing has changed since the country's successful referendum on national self rule in 1997 Civilizing Ireland Stiofán Ó Cadhla, 2007 A unique contemporary analysis of the huge imperial mapping project of the British Government in nineteenth century Ireland which describes as well as re interprets the value of science and modernity as practiced by the British empire The book raises questions about representation and academic discourses and highlights and interprets colonial techniques of observation and description The nature of evidence within colonial archive is also questioned Focussing on the main aspects of the survey from a contemporary theoretical perspective it both enlivens the original documents and serves as a sensitive critique of it The main themes are ethnographic description translation and cartography and the relationship between them in the nineteenth century Central to this is the emerging view of Ireland and the Irish and the idea of the project as representative of early Irish ethnography The book contains new findings in relation to renowned scholars such as John O

Donovan and re engages with the Friel vs Andrews debate on Translation and Irish Culture The book should be of wide interest to folklorists cultural sociologists geographers historians ethnologists cultural studies Irish language scholars and the general reader with an interest in Ireland Qui Parle ,2001
