Youth Activism in Environmental Politics, 2nd Edition Matt Henn, Sarah Pickard, 2023-02-02 Recently important new research has emerged to explain the large intergenerational cleavages in values and political preferences in many contemporary societies In most established democracies and many newer democracies young people are more likely to possess progressive values and are much more cosmopolitan in their outlook socially liberal accepting of cultural diversity and outward looking than older generations They tend to reject mainstream electoral politics and authoritarian nationalist forms of populism in favour of alternative progressive political parties and movements Indeed there is burgeoning evidence of a global tendency towards young people s support for and participation in new styles of non institutionalised political action that seem to better fit their life styles and to permit the actualisation of their political aspirations Although there is a considerable body of existing literature that examines the rise of such values and political participation preferences there is little work that focuses on the relationship with the prioritisation of environmental issues and environmental activism as evidenced in the September 2019 global climate strikes The goal of the current Research Topic is to explore the contemporary realities and patterns of youth participation in environmental politics in different societies As such we welcome manuscripts of original research and conceptualization that address the different practices of youth as they seek to effect environmental change and also their motivations for doing so Contributions are welcome from scholars youth practitioners and activists operating in a range of different settings and using diverse disciplinary and multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary perspectives My Therapist Is an AI - Can a Machine Understand the Human Soul? Leopoldo Ceballos del Castillo,2025-07-23 Today between 500 and 700 million people around the world use artificial intelligence the so called chatbots to talk about their emotions seek comfort or resolve personal conflicts In numerous documented cases these interactions have led to psychotic episodes severe crises or decisions driven by misleading advice hallucinations or fabricated information generated by the AI itself Leopoldo Ceballos drawing on his dual background as a computer engineer and psychologist offers a bold and clarifying perspective to understand why millions of people prefer to talk to a machine instead of another human being and what we can do as a society to address this trend without giving up on our humanity The result is a critical and practical guide for using AI responsibly recognizing its real risks exploring accessible human alternatives and applying prompt engineering principles to minimize errors and misunderstandings when no other option is available A book for those brave enough to look beyond the glow of technology and ask themselves Are we truly ready to talk about our emotions with an artificial intelligence Resources in Education ,1991-12 The Routledge Handbook of Corpus Linguistics Anne O'Keeffe,Michael McCarthy,2010-04-05 Provides an overview of a dynamic and rapidly growing area with a widely applied methodology This handbook covers the historical development of the field and its growing influence and application in other areas It is suitable for advanced undergraduates and postgraduates Software Development ,2002 ROM ,1977 Resources in Education ,1975 The Christian Century ,1956 Career Education ,1976 Catalogue of Title-entries of Books and Other Articles Entered in the Office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington, Under the Copyright Law ...
