Subcommittee on Education, Arts, and Humanities,1991 Past and Future Presence Lissa Crofton-Sleigh,Brian Beams,2024-05-14 While uses and studies of XR technology within STEM based education have been plentiful in recent years there has been lesser or even at times a lack of coverage for this novel learning tool in the arts and humanities Past and Future Presence aims to bridge some of that gap by presenting research based theory and case studies of successful application and implementation of XR technology into postsecondary educational settings ranging in topics from ancient to modern languages classical and contemporary art and reenvisioned historical scenes and events presented in ways never seen before The studies also contemplate how this novel medium can enhance and supplement learning in classrooms and other formal or informal learning environments The volume as a whole is intended to demonstrate to educators scholars and researchers in higher education the potential value of integrating XR technology into their classrooms and to provide a strong argument for college and university administrators to invest in training and development of new research and content for classrooms inside and outside of STEM The authors of these chapters come from a diverse range of backgrounds at different stages of their careers providing a broad crosssection of scholastic work within the humanities and arts Each chapter offers a different angle or approach to incorporating XR technology into teaching or research within different subject areas As the volume suggests this technology also places additional emphasis on the humanity within the humanities by focusing on increasing connection between users and different cultures time periods and perspectives

Surveillance Education Nolan Higdon,Allison Butler,2024-08-02 Surveillance Education explores the pervasive use of digital surveillance technologies in schools and assesses its pernicious effects on students Recognizing that the use of digital technologies will persist the authors instead offer practical ways to ameliorate their impact In our era of surveillance capitalism digital media technologies are ever more intertwined into the educational process Schools are presented with digital technologies as tools of convenience for gathering and grading student work as tools of support to foster a more equitable learning environment and as tools of safety for predicting or preventing violence or monitoring mental emotional and physical health Despite a dearth of evidence to confirm their effectiveness digital data collection and tracking is often presented as a way to improve educational outcomes and safety This book challenges these fallacious assumptions and argues that the use of digital media technologies has caused great harm to students by subjecting them to oppressive levels of surveillance impinging upon their right to privacy and harvesting their personal data on behalf of Big Tech In doing so the authors draw upon interviews from K 12 and higher education students teachers and staff civil rights and technology lawyers and educational technological programmers The authors also provide practical guidance for teachers administrators students and their families seeking to identify and combat surveillance in education This urgent eye opening book will be of interest to students and educators with interests in critical media literacy and pedagogy and the sociology of technology and education
