How to Manage and Survive during a Global Crisis Piyush Sharma, Tak Yan Leung, 2024-07-26 Sharma and Leung explore the differences in the national and organizational responses to COVID 19 across various countries The COVID 19 global pandemic is possibly the worst healthcare disaster ever and recent studies highlight several differences in the response to COVID 19 Some countries acted quickly with strict measures to successfully contain the initial spread of the COVID 19 and minimize the number of cases and deaths while others have not been as proactive and have suffered more as a result The book is organized under distinct themes based on the stages of the COVID 19 pandemic consisting of a discovery and early response b global spread and reactions c early successes and failures and d subsequent waves and new strains It goes on to analyze the differences in national responses to draw important lessons for managers and governments and concludes with policy recommendations A useful guide for students managers and the general public who are interested in learning about the COVID 19 experience and how such global crises could be managed more effectively in future

Virtual Services in the Health Sciences Library Amanda R. Scull, 2022-05-15 Selected as a 2025 Doody s Core Title Virtual services have been part of health sciences libraries for a long time in various forms including the provision of reference and research services via email or chat availability of online instruction access to electronic materials and the curation of virtual research guides But when the COVID 19 pandemic forced many libraries to close their doors and pivot to virtual services almost overnight Moving all services remote even for just a short time did highlight what worked well and what did not The situation increased visibility of these services and made patrons more aware of what was available perhaps making them more likely to expect and use those services in the future In some ways the pandemic showed us ways in which virtual services could even be better than in person services for providing prompt patron services The situation increased visibility of existing services making users more aware of what was available and revealed gaps and needed improvements in virtual services In this book copublished by the Medical Library Association librarians from academic to hospital health sciences libraries from rural to urban areas and across a range of service specialties provide blueprints and best practices for building and maintaining sustainable virtual services in health sciences libraries Each chapter in this volume addresses aspects of providing virtual services in information and access services reference and instruction collections and clinical services written by contributors who have been involved in this work in their own libraries Whether you are just beginning an implementation assessing and refining current offerings or strategizing for sustainability and looking to the future this book will provide practical advice tools and considerations for maximizing user engagement and satisfaction with virtual library services and resources
