The Art of Career Change for Introverts Rebecca Healey, 2020-08-08 Do you feel trapped in a job you hate? Have you repeatedly switched jobs only to find yourself in a new place but with the same old problems? Does the life you dream of always seem to be just out of reach? Our career choices are driven by a multitude of factors. But what if we've been consistently programmed to make the wrong choices? What if those choices eventually start to impact on our health, relationships, motivation, productivity, and even on the quality of our sleep? An estimated 36-50 percent of us are thought to have introverted personality characteristics. For this significant proportion of the population, the pressure to conform to an extroverted world can be all encompassing. But on the inside, this imbalance between inner preferences and outward actions can end up taking those with introverted characteristics down a path of energy draining life traps. So how do we change course for the better? Rebecca Healey left a decade long career as a city based management accountant in her early thirties. She went on to train in medicine, qualifying as a doctor in 2016. A self-proclaimed introvert, Rebecca was inspired to write by the recurring challenges experienced across two distinctly different industries and the strategies she adopted to eventually overcome them. Using her own experience, she has created 10 landmark steps to set you up for career change success.
