Core Questions In Philosophy:

Core Questions in Philosophy Elliott Sober, 2021-05-26 Written in an engaging lecture style format this 8th edition of Core Questions in Philosophy shows students how philosophy is best used to evaluate many different kinds of arguments and to construct sound theories. Well known historical texts are discussed not as a means to honor the dead or merely to describe what various philosophers have thought but to engage with, criticize, and even improve ideas from the past. In addition, because philosophy cannot function apart from its engagement with the wider society, traditional and contemporary philosophical problems are brought into dialogue with the physical, biological, and social sciences. Text boxes highlight key concepts and review questions, discussion questions, and a glossary of terms are also included. Core Questions in Philosophy has served as a premier introductory textbook for three decades, with updates to each new edition. Key updates to this 8th edition include: A new chapter on Probability and Bayes Theorem; A new explanation of the concept of soundness as a useful tool in assessing arguments; A clearer explanation in the chapter on evolution of the crucial biological idea that the similarities of different species provide evidence of their common ancestry; A new discussion of evolutionary altruism in the chapter on psychological egoism; A presentation of two interesting arguments from historically important Islamic and Confucian philosophers; Improved clarity and updated material from philosophy and empirical research throughout. Revisions to the online list of recommended resources include additional recommendations of supplementary readings with the inclusion of more work from female philosophers. New recommended videos and podcasts are all organized by their relevance to each chapter in the book.

Ways of Being in the World Andrea Sullivan-Clarke,2023-08-22 Ways of Being in the World is an anthology of the Indigenous philosophical thought of communities across Turtle Island offering readings on a variety of topics spanning many times and geographic locations It was created especially to meet the needs of instructors who want to add Indigenous philosophy to their courses but are unsure where to begin as well as for students Indigenous or otherwise who wish to broaden their horizons with materials not found in the typical philosophy course This collection is an invitation to embark on a relationship with Indigenous peoples through the introduction of their unique philosophies Education, Justice and the Human Good Kirsten Meyer,2014-05-16 The education system is faced with many demands of justice What these demands imply and how they are justified is however disputed In this book international contributors present cutting edge research to discuss the relationship between educational justice and the value of education By combining reflections on educational justice with reflections on the human good and the aims of education the book reveals that it is not enough to assess certain patterns of distribution the value of what is to be distributed must also be clarified In this respect deliberations about the value of education have to play an integral part in giving an account of educational justice Questions addressed in the volume include In what sense should justice fairness and equality be realised in the education system How is educational equality related to equality of opportunity Is the main concern that everyone should be educated equally well or just well enough Education Justice and the Human Good discusses the positional value of education and its relation to educational justice emphasising that education is valuable not only for competitive reasons but in its contribution to human flourishing

The book will appeal to those from the field of the philosophy of education as well as applied political philosophy from undergraduates to professional academics

Noncognitivism in Ethics Mark Schroeder, 2010-04-05 According to noncognitivists when we say that stealing is wrong what we are doing is more like venting our feelings about stealing or encouraging one another not to steal than like stating facts about morality These ideas challenge the core not only of much thinking about morality and metaethics but also of much philosophical thought about language and meaning Noncognitivism in Ethics is an outstanding introduction to these theories ranging from their early history through the latest contemporary developments Beginning with a general introduction to metaethics Mark Schroeder introduces and assesses three principal kinds of noncognitivist theory the speech act theories of Ayer Stevenson and Hare the expressivist theories of Blackburn and Gibbard and hybrid theories He pays particular attention both to the philosophical problems about what moral facts could be about or how they could matter which noncognitivism seeks to solve and to the deep problems that it faces including the task of explaining both the nature of moral thought and the complexity of moral attitudes and the Frege Geach problem Schroeder makes even the most difficult material accessible by offering crucial background along the way Also included are exercises at the end of each chapter chapter summaries and a glossary of technical terms making Noncognitivism in Ethics essential reading for all students of ethics and metaethics
