Core Sociological Dichotomies Chris Jenks, 1998-07-08 In this sociology text the contributors provide an introduction to the subject without over simplifying or writing down to their audience The book aims to furnish undergraduates with the knowledge that will help them to understand and practice sociology and also to develop a self perpetuating sociological imagination to enable them to think through new issues and new problems It consists of a series of specially commissioned chapters around binary or dichotomous themes Although many sociologists are critical of dichotomous models of sociological theory and research the device crops up again and again in the history and practice of the subject Jenks and his colleagues use the dichotomies to situate students in current sociological arguments and topical debates For example by examining contradictory pairs of concepts like structure agency local global continuity change students are introduced to alternative explanations for aspects of human conduct over a whole series of issues      Core Sociological Dichotomies Chris

Multi-level Methodology and Multi-world Ontology: A Core Architecture of Realist Social Theory Alexander Hong Lam Vu, 2002-01-03 Seminar paper from the year 1999 in the subject Sociology General and Theoretical Directions grade 1.0 A Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz Institute for Sociology course Seminar Margaret Archers contribution to modern sociological theory building language English abstract Abstract The central problem of social theorizing lies in the relations or mediations between system in particular structure and function agency particularly action and subject and time in particular history and process Historically these problems can be grouped in what I call the four micro macro problems In this paper I show that Margaret Archer's morphogenetic approach can be seen as an attempt to simultaneously address these four micro macro problems Reconstructing a core architecture of Archer's model of sociological explanation the analytical dualism I argue that this is a marriage of a two level methodology based upon the distinction structure interaction and a three world ontology based on Karl Popper s metaphysics As such Archer s social theory shares a basic feature with J rgen Habermas s theory of communicative action Bernhard Giesen s evolution theoretical model and Manfred Hennen s and Elisabeth Springer s basic schema of action theories By pointing that out I propose a hypothesis that a solution for the four fold micro macro problem would be a construct combining a multi world ontology that allows the possibility of emergence in social reality and a multi level methodology that provides a linkage between the different levels of social life ICSSR Journal of Abstracts and Reviews Indian Council of Social Science Research,2000
