Coping With Death And Dying:

Understanding Dying, Death, and Bereavement Michael R. Leming, George E. Dickinson, 1990 Using a social psychological approach the new edition of this book remains solidly grounded in theory and research while also providing useful information to help individuals examine their own feelings about and cope with death and grieving The well known authors and researchers integrate stimulating personal accounts throughout the text and apply concepts to specific examples that deal with cross cultural perspectives and the practical matters of death and dying Dying and Death Oaks, 1993-12

Death, Dying, and Bereavement Judith M. Stillion, Thomas Attig, PhD, 2014-11-07 Print CourseSmart Coping with Death and Dying Robert D. Russell, 1980 Dealing with Dying, Death, and Grief during Adolescence David E. Balk, 2014-02-18 For some life's introduction to death and grief comes early and when it does it can take many forms Not only does Dealing with Dying Death and Grief during Adolescence tackle them all it does so with David Balk's remarkable sensitivity to and deep knowledge of the pressures and opportunities adolescents face in their transition from childhood to adulthood In seamless jargon free language Balk brings readers up to date with what we know about adolescent development because over time such changes form the backstory we need to comprehend the impact of death and bereavement in an adolescent's life The book's later chapters break down the recent findings in the study of life threatening illness and bereavement during adolescence And crucially these chapters also examine interventions that assist adolescents coping with these difficulties Clinicians will come away from this book with both a grounded understanding of adolescent development and the adolescent experience of death and they'll also gain specific tools for helping adolescents cope with death and grief on their own terms For any clinician committed to supporting adolescents facing some of life's most difficult experiences this integrated up to date and deeply insightful text is simply the book to have David E Balk is professor in the department of health and nutrition sciences at Brooklyn College CUNY where he directs the graduate program in thanatology He is the author of Adolescent Development Early Through Late Adolescence Helping the Bereaved College Student and several other books on death and bereavement He is also co editor of the 2nd edition of the Handbook of Thanatology Routledge 2013

Helping Grieving People - When Tears Are Not Enough J. Shep Jeffreys, 2011-05-09 Helping Grieving People When Tears Are Not Enough is a handbook for care providers who provide service support and counseling to those grieving death illness and other losses This book is also an excellent text for academic courses as well as for staff development training The author addresses grief as it affects a variety of relationships and discusses different intervention and support strategies always cognizant of individual and cultural differences in the expression and treatment of grief Jeffreys has established a practical approach to preparing grief care providers through three basic tracks The first track Heart calls for self discovery freeing oneself of accumulated loss in order to focus all attention on the griever Second track Head emphasizes understanding the complex and dynamic phenomena of human grief Third track Hands stresses the caregiver's actual intervention and speaks to lay and professional levels of skill as well as the various approaches for healing available Accompanying these three motifs the Handbook discusses the social and cultural contexts of grief as applied to various populations of grievers as well as the underlying psychological basis of human grief Throughout the book Jeffreys presents the role of the caregiver as an Exquisite Witness to the journey of grief and pain of bereaved family and friends and also to the path taken by dying persons and their families The second edition of Helping Grieving People remains true to the approach that has been so well received in the original volume It includes updated research findings and addresses new information and developments in the field of loss grief and bereavement

Handbook of Adolescent Death and Bereavement David E. Balk, PhD, 2004-01-01 In this comprehensive handbook Charles Corr and David Balk improve our understanding of the challenges faced by adolescents when coping with death dying and bereavement The volume is organized into three parts Part I addresses specific issues involved in confrontations with death Part II focuses on the role of bereavement Part III explains specific therapeutic interventions for caregivers The authors introduce us to adolescence as a special time in the human life cycle a period quite separate from childhood and adulthood They establish normative adolescents and explain developmental tasks that are typical of early middle and late adolescence

The Ultimate Challenge Marilyn Hadad, 2007-12-19 The Ultimate Challenge Coping with Death dying and Bereavement presents the topic as seen through a Canadian perspective including Canadian demographics and examples specifically taken from events within Canada There is a balance of theoretical empirical and practical material making The Ultimate Challenge Coping with Death Dying and Bereavement appropriate for students who want a basic knowledge of the area and for students who are training in mental health or medical areas in which such knowledge will have immediate applications The area of death dying and bereavement is multi disciplinary and this book draws on material from the different disciplines psychology sociology anthropology economics history political science literature and the arts Issues and concepts are illustrated with newspaper items and case studies increasing the immediate relevance of the material presented

Grieving Beyond Gender Kenneth J. Doka, Terry L. Martin, 2011-01-19 Grieving Beyond Gender Understanding the Ways Men and Women Mourn is a revision of Men Don't Cry Women Do Transcending Gender Stereotypes of Grief In this work Doka and Martin elaborate on their conceptual model of styles or patterns of grieving a model that has generated both research and acceptance since the publication of the first edition in 1999 In that book as well as in this revision Doka and Martin explore the different ways that individuals grieve noting that gender is only one factor that affects an individual's style or pattern of grief The book differentiates intuitive grievers where the pattern is more affective from instrumental grievers who grieve in a more cognitive and behavioral way while noting other patterns that might be more blended or dissonant The model is firmly grounded in social science theory and research A particular strength of the work is the emphasis placed on the clinical implications of the model on the ways that different types of grievors might best be supported through individual counseling or group support
