Introduction to Corrections Robert D. Hanser, 2023-02-14 Introduction to Corrections provides students with a comprehensive foundation of corrections that is practitioner driven and grounded in modern research and theoretical origins This text uniquely illustrates how the day to day practitioner conducts business in the field of corrections in both institutional and community settings Experienced correctional practitioner scholar and author Robert D Hanser shows students how the corrections system actually works from classification to security to treatment to demonstrating how and why correctional practices are implemented Key Features Balanced coverage of research and practice offers students a comprehensive view of the field and evidence based practices as they prepare for a career in corrections and or the criminal justice system Assessment and classification from both institutional and community corrections perspectives offer students a well rounded understanding of the field of corrections Exclusive Prison Tour and Inmate videos provide a view into the daily operations of the correctional facilities at Angola State Penitentiary and Richwood Correctional Center with commentary from correctional staff Engaging chapter opening vignettes highlight important issues in corrections and allow students to understand the challenges corrections practitioners face each day Various issues associated with specialized offender typologies help students understand a variety of offenders they will encounter in the field such as female offenders geriatric offenders mentally ill offenders gang offenders and others

Hybrid Novels George Kowalik, 2025-10-03 The phrase post postmodernism has appeared in Contemporary Literary Studies since the 20th century but what does it mean Scholars have defined the term in various often contradictory ways Existing studies also rarely centralise race an essential component in the transition from postmodern irony to post postmodern sincerity Hybrid Novels analyses post postmodernism s only consistency and certainty hybridity This speaks for a broader social issue concerning the ethics of categorisation and the conflicting labels imposed on subjectivity Hybrid Novels considers landmark American British novels by Percival Everett Jonathan Franzen Zadie Smith and David Foster Wallace published from 1996 to 2001 It positions these authors at the centre of the post postmodernism debate together for the first time This book suggests that 2010s autofiction further develops post postmodern tensions of irony and sincerity at the turn of the 21st century Major American Canadian novels by Sheila Heti Ben Lerner Teju Cole and Tao Lin are discussed published from 2010 to 2013

Corrections Richard P. Seiter, 2011 This book examines corrections not just from an academic view but from those who are at the center of the system It includes correctional history and theory yet concentrates on what professionals do why they do it and the challenges they face every day Taking an insider s view this edition discusses the impact of budgetary challenges alternatives to incarceration and updates to legal decisions New to this edition is the MyCrimeKit website featuring video interviews with correctional staff clients and policymakers This book is fully updated to include the latest on Problems solving courts mental health Evidence based practices Staff recruitment and retention issues Private prisons Correctional technology Prisoner reentry Some new features to this edition include New A new section on the impact of budgetary challenges New A new section on alternatives to incarceration New Updated legal decisions This is a perfect resource for individuals and taxpayers interested in today s criminal justice system and an understanding of how programs operate and how much they cost

Jonathan Franzen at the End of Postmodernism Stephen J. Burn, 2008-12-07 Jonathan Franzen is one of the most influential critically significant and popular contemporary American novelists This book is the first full length study of his work and attempts to articulate where American fiction is headed after postmodernism Stephen Burn provides a comprehensive analysis of each of Franzen s novels from his early work to the major success of The Corrections identifying key sources delineating important narrative strategies and revealing how Franzen's themes are reinforced by each novel's structure. Supplementing this analysis with comparisons to key contemporaries David Foster Wallace and Richard Powers Burn suggests how Franzen's work is indicative of the direction of experimental American fiction in the wake of the so-called end of postmodernism.

The Neoliberal Imagination in Contemporary Literature
 Tammy Amiel Houser, 2024-08-06 This book examines the relationship between empathy and neoliberalism as it unfolded in the aftermath of the 2008 financial crisis and through the turbulent 2010s. Via close readings of contemporary novels as well as various non-fictional texts it traces the changing approaches to empathy in the post-financial crisis imagination, highlighting a crucial re-conceptualization of empathy as a boundaryless force untethered to local or social circumstance. This reconceptualization implicitly aligns empathy with the neoliberal ethos of globalism and distances it from the traditional notion of sympathy. Via complex dialogue with the novelistic tradition of sympathy, contemporary novelists highlight the problematics of boundaryless empathy while exploring ways to resist neoliberal views and values. Analyzing engagements with empathy in post-2008 literature and culture, the book sheds light on the underlying affective dynamics that enabled the persistence of neoliberalism after the 2008 financial crisis alongside efforts to challenge its dominance.

American Corrections Todd R. Clear, George F. Cole, 1993 In this introductory text, Clear and Cole offer the idea of the correctional system in order to promote and enhance understanding of the complexity and variety of corrections. The concept of corrections as a system of interconnected organizations is a theme carried throughout the book. Clear and Cole describe the correctional system as being comprised of a composite of large and small organizations that is administered by various levels of government: national, state, county, local, seeking to satisfy complex and sometimes competing goals through the efforts of professional and nonprofessional employees who are put into contact with another and in direct authority over offenders. The authors consistently include the contributions of several disciplines such as history, law, psychology, political science, and sociology in a clear and straightforward manner.

Living the Dream Jack McKraken, 2022-09-12 Written by former New York Corrections Officer Jack McKraken, Living the Dream is a deep dive into the beating heart of American Corrections. This book shines a light on the absurdities, inadequacies, and organized chaos of the system that stands between ordinary Americans and the worst violent offenders. Author of science-fiction novel Beyond Mortal Measure, Jack McKraken breaks into the world of nonfiction writing from his own perspective as he describes a ground-level view of a single Corrections Officer while simultaneously examining the entirety of the US prison system. From the tedium of the day-to-day rounds to the politics of the NYSCOPBA (New York State Correctional Officers Police Benevolent Association), McKraken depicts the conditions and constraints within which Correction Officers are forced to operate by an entrenched bureaucracy. The book describes prisoner interactions and altercations candidly often humorously leaving the reader with a unique perspective into American Justice Antelope Hill is proud to publish Living the Dream as its second original work Jack McKraken's work is not just a memoir of exciting anecdotes and useful tips but an account of how one can survive and keep their sanity within one of the most soul crushing settings known to man This title is a must read for anyone who may find themselves in prison regardless of which side of the bars
