

The background of the title page is a sepia-toned photograph of a study desk. In the foreground, an open book lies flat, with a pair of round-rimmed spectacles resting on its right page. A quill pen is positioned diagonally across the bottom of the frame. In the background, several other books are visible, some standing upright and others lying flat. The overall lighting is warm and focused on the open book and spectacles.

Excerpt from The Correspondence of William Cowper Vol 1 of 4 Arranged in Chronological Order With Annotations William Cowper is universally acknowledged to be the greatest of English letter writers How strange therefore that over one hundred years from the time of his death should have elapsed before a practically complete edition of his correspondence arranged chronologically with annotations should be given to the world In all three bulky collections of Cowper s letters have hitherto been published those of Hayley Grimshawe and Southey Hayley with the fear of Lady Hesketh before his eyes and Grimshawe owing to pure incapacity either to understand Cowper or to produce a respectable work of any kind mutilated the letters mercilessly Grimshawe afraid one would suppose lest his readers should wreck their chances of future happiness by venturing on a smile took peculiar delight in striking out the facetious passages often requests for various small articles or thanks for presents which are among the best specimens of Cowper s playful humour About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
